G MATCH GAME GOES

ller and Kummer to Meet Knight and Hahn.

Eddie Kummer and Billy Miller didn't challenge any two bowlers in Detroit with-result.

When Knight and Kahn, stars of the Gardenway alleys, heard about the Gardenway's concern they asked "How much will it be?" and made it their business to find out where all the noise came from. Investigation proved the existence of that Kummer and Miller were on the level with their talk, and a match was clinched—for 1,000 total pins to count in 20 games. The first five games will be rolled on the Gardenway alleys Thursday afternoon, and the second five on the Broadway alleys Friday afternoon of this week.

AG FIVE MEETS "FATS"

od Match Game Should Result at Schmidtke's Thursday.

Bag five and the "Fats" will meet Thursday afternoon at Schmidtke's, and scheduled time of the clash is 2:30 o'clock. Percy Cross, Manager Schmidtke, Willie Breitmeyer and "Jim" Martha will compose the "Bag" front, while the "Fats," will sport the same lineup which has been creating such talk in bowling circles. The "Fats" total just 3 pounds when they now on the scales, but they are capable of turning in their right duppeonie in the matter of pins per game. The "Fats" are carded to appear in Cleveland in January, and want to have a lot of match clashes before going to the Forest City to tackle the famous Henkels. Another bunch of "light-weights."

Thursday's mingling at Schmidtke's figures to be productive of some-fine bowling, as the cast which will face the "Fats" is capable of collecting a whole stock of goods on the east side runways.

Alhambras Are Easy Victors.

Strauss Club After Games.

Dear Rev. Doherty,

I have been researching my family for a number of years and find that my great-grandmother was born in "Dingle Bay".

Her name was Ellen Josephine Lovet, born on or about June 17, 1861. She was the daughter of John Lovet and Mary Shea or Long.

Could your parish registers be checked for her birth, any brothers or sisters and the parents marriage?

Any help on this problem will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

Mrs. David J. Read

Dear Mrs. Read,

I have failed to find any entry in our baptismal register of any Lovett from Jan 1851 to Dec 1863. Our marriage register begins only in 1862 – but no Lovett is entered from Jan '62 to Dec. '64.

I would have thought Dingle would be the most likely place to find Lovetts – there's still there. Sorry not to be of any help.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Read,

I regret to inform you that we have no records for the 1850's and 1860's, so I cannot give you any information regarding your great-grandmother. The name Lovett is not found in Killorglin Parish; and indeed the area is never described as being on Dingle Bay. I hope that you will have success with your enquiries in other parishes, most likely Annascaul, Ballyferriter, or Dingle itself.

With best wishes

Yours sincerely,

(Rev.) M. Maher.

This Parish is not in Dingle Bay. However, I searched Records for 1861 & 1862. and did not even find the name - "Lovet". Try the Records in Dingle Parish, Castlegregory, and Annascaul and Ballyferriter. These Parishes are in Dingle Bay The name "Long" is a Dingle name. Write to Parish Priest of each of these Parishes. Wishing you success.

Sincerely. M. F. Dennehy. P.P

Dear Madam

In reply to your letter of August 16, 1978 I am to state that it is not the practice to engage on research of this nature. Prior to the Lands Acts at the end of the last century most farms were held as yearly tenancies or short term leases and as such were considered not to come within the provisions of the Registry Acts. Dwellinghouses were usually held under short term tenancies , it can be taken that records of transactions affecting such tenancies are unlikely to exist in the Registry of Deeds.

In order to trace the registration of any Deed the following information is necessary, the names of all parties to the Deed, the date of the Deed, in addition to the situation of the premises e.g. Street or Townland and location e.g. City Town or County. From the information supplied it has not been possible to trace the registration of the Deed required.

The records date from 1708 and comprise Memorials of Deeds, Transcripts which are copies of the Memorial and Abstracts which are a summary of the Memorial. The Memorial which this office retains , contains short particulars from the Deed complying with the Registry Acts, and is the fullest statement of the contents of the Deed this Office possesses. Maps are not retained in this office in support of registration.

Such information as:- family christian names of ancestors, their dates of birth & location, dates of Marriage & location, date & port of emigration & port of immigration; religion; trade; names and dates of birth of children born in Ireland; details regarding Deeds and Property would be of assistance in research undertaken by the Genealogical Office., to which office a copy of your letter has been forwarded.

Yours faithfully

Dear Father,

I have been researching my Family history for a number of years and have located one relative in Detroit, in your Parish.

His name was John Lovett, born about 1850, d. Dec. 14, 1915. His residence at death was 51 Harrison Ave.. He was removed to St. John the Baptist Cemetery, Amherstburg, Ont. for burial. His wife (Kate?) preceded him in death.

John had a sister Josephine Ellen (Hunt) and his parents were John and Mary (Shea) Lovett. There were porbably other children in this family.

Could your records be checked for information about this family? Any clue as to previous residence, his family, possibly a marriage or children would be most valuable to me.

I know the family was of Irish descent and I understand your Parish had a large German membership. Was there a particular Parish that was predominately Irish during the late 1800/s early 1900/s?

Thank you for any assistance you may be able to provide.

Sincerely,

Mrs. David J. Read

"Happy Acres"

Many Pathetic Reminders Present Of Last Suburb Home Land Boom

—Blade Photo

HOW THE ROAD ENDS FOR A WILDCAT SUBURB NEAR TRILBY

Westwood Gardens has no street lights, sewers or water-mains, after 28 years. Only 130 homes have been built on the 700 odd lots.

By MILLICENT BELL

THE real estate pot is beginning to boil again. When the anticipated release of building materials sounds "Soup's on!" buying and building are expected to begin where they left off in the roaring twenties.

Yet, out beyond the city line, as well as within it, you can take a long sobering look at the pathetic reminders of the "happy acres" projects that went sour the last time the city took a lunge outward.

Here are vast stretches of farm and wood land prematurely subdivided into lots, vacant and unused, memorialized only by a broken sidewalk, a run-down curb, a scattered and dilapidated handful of houses, or a file of lamp-posts marching grotesquely through open fields.

"Do we live to work or do we work to live?" goes the old argument.

Thousands in Toledo who would like to work to live have earmarked some of their war-earnings —"a home on the outskirts." Like many busy war centers Toledo's been a great place to work in, and one not so great to raise a family in.

So, tied up with these savings has been a dream typically American—a home of one's own, quiet streets, space, green grass, the cleaner air of the country.

Many of Toledo's servicemen are looking forward to returning to a fuller life, and the GI Bill of Rights provides for government backing of loans to veterans in amounts up to $2,000 on the purchase of homes.

* * *

boards, says of this prospect: "We're going to have a worse mess than we ever had unless something is done to prevent it."

Because nothing was done the last time—

Subdivisions have been approved in unsuitable areas, unfit for home-building or in inconvenient unlikely outposts of the city's growth.

Subdivisions have been approved that in the end yielded only losses to the unfortunate buyers, the county and the city.

Today, many of these "plats," empty or half-empty, have no chance of ever being used. Unfit for home-building in the first place, or so stupidly designed that only shanty dwellings were ever built on them, they are, moreover so burdened with delinquent taxes that in many cases the debt equals or exceeds the assessed valuation of the property.

There is, therefore, no doubt that when the buy-and-build twister hits here again, it will skip over this "frozen" belt and stimulate even further extension of the city in the still unplatted land beyond.

Next: The Cost of the Trek to Suburbia.

What's in Store For Dream Home?

Are we in for another speculative land boom? Will your dream home on the outskirts become a shack in the sticks 10 years from now? What are the lessons that past errors teach concerning suburban expansion? This is the first of a series of six articles designed to answer these and other questions.

are concerned with that dream. You can call it "happy acres." It reminds us that Americans have never been satisfied with living in slums or in smoky, crowded, noisy cities where the raising of happy and healthful children is achieved by a near miracle. And before we use that phrase trailing clouds of dream, "postwar," we had best take stock of the fate of earlier longings for the suburban home.

Part of Toledo's present financial distress and its past human tragedy, the premature blighting of the land, the death of hopes, is being diagnosed as due to the fact that this dream was not hitched to civic precaution, to planning.

* * *

IF YOU cut up every acre of vacant Toledo property into only six lots, and placed four people on each lot, you would have a city population of 1,375,000 people. Some 28.12 per cent of city land, according to Charles E. Hatch, engineer of the city and county planning commissions, is vacant.

Toledo, the lusty little trading-post that first sprang up on the Maumee a hundred or so years ago, has been a city of almost miraculous growth. In 60 years, from 1850 to 1910, its population multiplied 60 times over. Today, when eight of the 25 largest cities of the country have actually declined in population, the period of city expansion that created our own metropolis seems to be coming to a close, and another such upward zoom is unlikely.

* * *

AS FRANK SOHN, Toledo planning expert, says: "Unless completely unforseen industrial developments take place, we're going to stay at our present level for some time."

Yet Toledo, like most cities, has grown by successive accretions of new neighborhoods. The most immediate and greatest building activity of the city's near future probably will take place on the undeveloped land on the fringes of the city. Like most city-dwellers, we're proud of our town—yet we want to get the devil out of it.

This type of new neighborhood construction, unorganized, uncoordinated, will present the most serious of our postwar city planning problems, experts say. The cheapness of the land in these virgin areas, its ease of acquisition, the limited amount of capital required for embarking on the enterprise and the reasonable assurance of a profit during the period of housing shortage will make the newly-platted subdivision designed for the small home, the first headache of city-planning.

Tues., 6-7-88

Dear Helen:

Sorry it's been so long between letters but I've had a miserable late winter & early spring.

We last Robert F. Hunt (my deceased brothers oldest son) to a massive heart attack on 3-12-88. (For your records Robert F. Hunt, Son of Dorothy Schoenmeiss & Francis Lea Hunt, Jr. - born (9-8-43) died (3-12-88) he leaves his wife, Patricia Lyons Hunt & 2 sons, Mark R. - age 14 yrs. Robert F. - " 11 yrs.)

He was a NYC Fireman & coach of a little league baseball team etc; a great all round guy. He had been fine & had had the day off so he & his wife did some shopping & chores, he had dinner & about 10:30p. he had a shower & went to bed.

His wife found him dead at 1:00 AM when she went upstairs to bed. It is all very ironic, as his dad was found dead in bed at age 43. But was 45. — Both had massive heart attacks according to the doctors. Too many similarities for me...

It has taken its toll on all of us. The Fire Dept. did a formal funeral & had honor guards at foot & head of the casket, changing every 1/2 hour - His helmet, coat (fire) were on display - he was laid out in full uniform. —

At Church the street was closed from either cross street & all 3 fire engines from his company were lined up with all the men at his "house" (as they say) in attendance. The dept. closed his house with the

Dear Mrs. Hamilton,

Some time ago you searched some records for me.

One entry is not very clear, and I am not sure of some of the spelling. Rather than explain (or try to) just which words I'm not sure of, could you re-copy the whole entry for me?

It is: Bapt. Dec. 21, 1890 - born Dec. 9, 1890
Mary Isabella Hunt.

I appreciate the time you have spent previously very much, and hope that this won't be of too much bother.

Sincerely,

Helen Read

Mrs. David J. Read

On Dec. 21st. was baptised Mary Isabella born the 9th Inst. of Thomas Hunt and Arlen (Helen? or Aileen Lovett. Sponsors John Joseph Dupet (Dupuis? this could be the correct spelling but am coping letter for letter) and Ida Hunt.

Luke Renaud C.S.B.

Hope this helps but Fr. Renaud was a very poor speller & writer at times.

October 1986

There is uncertainty about the exact place of birth for Thomas. His death certificate states he was born in Wayne Co. Mich., but he was baptised a few days later in Amherstburg, Canada. It is possible that he was the child born on the boat on the Detroit River, but it is a story that remains elusive to prove.

Thomas brought his family to Toledo in 1892 and lived at 1729 Michigan St. He lived at several different locations, but always in the same general area. He was living at 1629 Ontario St. at the time of his death.

His occupation was always listed as a marine engineer or a boiler operator. In 1898 Thomas was an engineer at the R. Reeves & Co., 1009 Water St. This company is listed in the Toledo City Directory as a marine boiler works.

Frank Leo and John David followed their father's footsteps. Frank became a Captain of a dredge and John (Jack) was the First Mate. The younger Thomas became a millwright and moved to Port Clinton, Ohio. Roy was a billboard designer and painter and served in the Army during World War I. Mae worked as a saleslady at Lamson's department store.

About 1918 Frank left Toledo and went to the New York City area to work. By 1920 Jack had followed.

Sometime late in 1926 or early 1927, Ellen and Mae joined the boys in New York. The family finally settled on Staten Island and many of them are buried at St. Peter's Cemetery there.

Very little is known about the Lovett family. Ellen was born in Dingle, Co. Kerry. Church records were searched there, and a John Lovett and Mary Shea (Long) were found. But even though these are the names Ellen gave as her parents, and the place, none of the baptism records found could prove it was correct.

It is known that Ellen had a brother John who lived in Amherstburg and in Detroit. His wife Catherine died 12 Aug. 1911 and Thomas and William Hunt and their wives attended her funeral. She died and was buried in Amherstburg. John Lovett died 13 Dec. 1915 in Detroit and was buried beside his wife in Amherstburg.

John worked for the railroad and was a locomotive fireman in 1881.

Ellen Lovett Hunt was supposed to have come to the U.S. in 1869. If it was known where the family was living in 1870, the problems of this ancestral line might be more easily solved.

Cemetary on Staten Island) I've had a benign breast surgery on 9/18 & a hysterectomy on 11/17 so you can see I'm not really

I'm had to close out his financial advisors etc. etc. I'm on the road to completion now

Dec. 15, 1990

Dear Helen & Don:

I should have written before this but it's been very difficult to keep up with everything here.

Denis died on Sept. 9th & it has been hard to be alone & get everything done. He had a stroke in June & never spoke & didn't walk after that. He just failed & finally had a massive heart attack or paper work is complete.

I'll be at my boss for Christmas with my daughters family there too! The little ones help to make it easier.
Have a great new year,
I figure mine has to improve (it can't get much worse)
Love to you all,
Anita

Dear Helen:

I know it is ages since I've written but my life and the lives of the family get more complicated as time goes on...MY daughter Denise was diagnosed with Bladder Cancer in late February and has had to have her bladder taken out and permanent Urostomy bag attached to her stomach..... at present she still also has one tube from the right kidney into a bag that is attached to her leg...when she came home from the hospital she had a right and left bag plus the stomach one, they have been able to invert the left side but the right is a little more complicated and she needs to gain a little strength before going back in to have the right side done. It seems like God has decided that we are all due for some hard times right now.....

I really don't know if you knew I had a benign hyerterectomy in Nov., and someone stole my car in March, the surgery turned out fine,but I have asked God if is couldn't have been me to have the cancer and not Denise but who knows what He has in mind for us...The car was recovered after a few days, not to badly damaged, kids took it for a JOY ride, they broke the door lock and the lock on the steering column and stole some tapes and badly scratched the outside with a key or screw driver, Cost $3300.00 to get it fixed.

Craigs wife is one yr. free of cancer of the breast and doing well sofar.....the little ones are all well and enjoying summer vacation from school. Denise is coming along alright, she and her husband and daughter are going to St. John, in the Virgin Island next Tues., for 10 days R/R....she only weighs 93lbs, however, her normal weight is only 110 lbs., so the Dr. feels some rest and good food will do her a world of good. I ask that you say some prayers for all of us as it's been one hell of a yearand we need all the prayers we can get,.
How is your mother doing???? and Dad too, say Hi to Dave and the boys and their families for the NY cousins. Write when you have 10 minutes to spare..

Love,

Anita

Dear Dorothy & family:

It seems a shame that it takes so long for us all to develop a little relationship but that is family life when we are all so far apart -

I'll attempt to update our family to you - We, Denis & I are now 43 & 46 (this year) & have 2 grown children Denise, who will be 22 on Mar. 6 & Craig who will be 21 on Feb. 14 Denise is a senior at State College about 300 miles from here, she is a Physcology Major & has applied to Graduate School for her Master's Degree - Craig is a night college student & a major in Engineering & works with my husband in our building business. My husband's father owned a custom building business for many years & when he died 15 yrs ago my husband took over & now also Ralf has joined him. It keeps us busy - I work 25 hrs. a week for a doctor (surgeon) & have for 11 years now - We have a large house & it all keeps me busy.

Dear Mrs. Gignac,

I would like to know if the following two people had obituaries appearing in the Amherstburg Echo. Can you check or recommend someone that could do this for me?

SMITH, Virginia
Died: July 1, 1921
Buried: St. John the Baptist
Born: 1855

SMITH, William J.
Died: August 21, 1929
Buried: same
Born: 1853

Virginia has been mentioned with my Hunt/Lovet family several times yet I don't know her relationship. I am thinking she may have been a Lovet.

Enclosed is a check for $6.00 and an addressed envelope. Thank you for any assistance you can give me.

Sincerely,

Helen Read

Dear Mrs. Read:

Virginia was born and baptized May 9, 1855 at St. John the Baptist Church, Amherstburg, daughter of James Morin and Julie Boufford. She married William Smith at St. John's the 6th of October, 1875. There is a standing stone in St. John's cemetery for William, Virginia, son Wilfrid and son Frederick. I have searched through the St. John's records and can find no connection between the Morin family and the Hunts or Lovetts. If you want me to dig further please advise.

Sincerely,

Eleanor Gignac

The Amherstburg Echo

"DEATHS - SMITH - In Amherstburg, Friday, July 1st, 1921, Mrs. William J. Smith, aged 66 years, 1 month, 21 days."

"DEATH'S DOINGS"

"Mrs. William J. Smith. After suffering an invalidism of thirteen years, Mrs. William J. Smith, Apsley Street, Amherstburg, passed away Friday morning in the 66th year of her age. Many times during the past few years her condition would become so critical that it was feared the end had come, then a revival and another period of suffering. The entrance into the Life Beyond was a blessed relief from earthly suffering. The funeral took place Monday morning to St. John the Baptist R. C. Church, where Rev. Fr. Donnelly sang requiem mass, and Rev. Fr. Kelly officiated at the graveside. The pallbearers were Charles Odette, Charles McLean, Joseph Lemay, Gordon Colborne, J. I. Cousins and James I. Ouellette. Mrs. Smith was a daughter of the late James Morin, and was born on the place where she died. She was the last of a family of five. Only two nieces and two nephews survive: Mrs. Dickson and Mrs. Woods, of Detroit; John Brouty, of Detroit, and Fred Morin, of Windsor. She and Mr. Smith were married in St. John the Baptist R. C. church 47 years ago, by Rev. Fr. Molphy, assistant priest at that time, and to them were born four children - Fred J., of The Echo staff; Rena, Mrs. (Capt.) W. L. J. Girardin, and Lloyd, of Cleveland, and Lieut. Wilfrid Smith, Amherstburg. To the bereaved family and relatives will go out the loving sympathy of many friends."

The Amherstburg Echo
August 30th, 1929

"W. J. SMITH'S FUNERAL ... The funeral of the late William J. Smith took place from the family home, Apsley Street, on Saturday morning last to St. John the Baptist R. C. Church, where solemn requiem high mass was sung by Rev. Fr. Wilbur, with Fr. Donlin of Our Lady of Prompt Succor Church, as deacon, Mr. Eugene Paddoc as sub-deacon, and Lawrence Lacey as Master of Ceremonies. A large number of relatives and old friends followed the cortege to the R. C. cemetery, where his remains were laid to rest, the pall-bearers being Richard Darragh, Lewis Langlois, E. J. Gott, P. A. Barron, Charles D. Kelly and R. M. Dorsey."

The Echo of August 23rd, which would carry a longer obit for Capt Smith, is missing from the original files & film.

Dear Ms. Read:

Thank you for your payment for my searching the 1881 census. The results of this search are enclosed.

An entry was found for one Lovett family, but there were no persons with the surname Crimmin. The William George Hunt family was located, as was Samuel Heard and his wife, Mary Ann (Hunt) and the Thomas Hunt family. I've also included, at no extra charge, additional entries for the Heard family, including John Heard Sr., who appears to be Samuel Heard's father.

For future research you might wish to consider a search of marriage registers for Essex Co. for the marriage of William George and Ellen Hunt. A search of additional censuses could also be of use. The marriage registers are especially useful as they often give the parents' names. (See information sheet sent previously for rates, etc.).

Thanks again. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Brad Oxford

P.S. Immigration records are practically non-existent prior to the 1860's and even for those it is necessary to have a date and name of ship.

I am able to make any of the following searches. All fees are payable in advance by cheque or money order (U.S. funds).

1) General Survey: Indexes, genealogies, family, county, local histories, and other resources in the Toronto Library, Ontario Genealogical Society Library, and Provincial Archives, [redacted] $15.00.

2) Censuses: Available 1851, 1861, 1871, 1881 for most areas. Specific family, $4.00; all families with same surname, $6.00, per census, per township. Terms differ for Toronto and other large cities.

3) County Probate Indexes: Pre-1900, any 25-year period, $4.00 per person.

4) County Land Indexes: Pre-1900, will extract a list of all transactions for any 25-year period, $5.00 per person.

5) County Marriage Registers: Pre-1869, any register, $5.00 per person.

6) Newspaper Obituaries: Available on microfilm to first issues in most areas. Any one month following date of death, $8.00 per person.

In addition to the above, research to solve specific genealogical problems is available at $5.00 per hour, plus expenses such as photocopying.

Unless considerable information is already known, I usually suggest a General Survey, followed by censuses, when available. Searches prior to 1851 usually require extensive checking into land, probate, and church records.

If you want me to make any of the above searches, please forward all relevant information. It is usually necessary to have at least a full name, approximate dates, and general locality (ie. county, township, town, or village).

Thank you very much and hope to be of assistance in the near future.

Sincerely,

Brad Oxford

John Thomas Lovett - Possibly from the Dingle area?

Posted by Andrew Lovette <lovandr@lycoming.edu> on Fri, 21 May 1999

Surname: Lovett, Moriarty

Hello, trying to track down any possible information about my great-great-great-grandfather, John Thomas Lovett. He emigrated from Kerry in 1833, most likely from the Dingle area.
He was married to a Johanna Moriarty; they had several children born in Ireland: Ellen, Michael, and David, before they (the wife and children) came over to Ireland in the 1840's.
John also had a brother George, who also emigrated to the USA about the same time.
Any help would be appreciated!

1796 Flax Seed Premium Entitlement List

Also known as the Spinning Wheel List or the Flax Growers Bounty List 1796, the Flax Seed Premium Entitlement lists the names of persons in Ireland to whom the Trustees of the Linen Manufacturers paid premiums for sowing flax in 1796. Most entitlements were paid in Northern Ireland. The list here shows the Kerry recipients and the civil parish of their residence.

Processed to produce oil and textile goods, flax was an important cash crop of the 18th and 19th Centuries. During this time period, thousands of Irish farmers grew the crop for their livelihood.

The Kerry names were extracted from the All Ireland Heritage microfiche, 225 Cedar Ln, Vienna VA 22180.

CHAPTER XVI.

BIDDULPH TOWNSHIP.

Biddulph Township is bounded on the west by McGillivray Township and Huron County; on the north by Huron county; on the north-east by Huron County; and on the east by that and Perth County; while the north line of London Township forms its southern boundary. The little Sauble, known as the "Little Sauble River," flows from the north-east, entering McGillivray south of Clandeboye. South of the main line of the Grand Trunk Railroad, Fish Creek, and a tributary of the Thames, flow towards the Thames valley. Geologically, the township belongs to the Goderich salt district. In February, 1883, water from the well at Hooper's steam saw-mill was found to produce salt by evaporation. At Exeter, thirteen miles from Lucan, a good quality of salt was manufactured.

The township, like all others in Ontario, is subject to the severe cold of winter. January 1, 1864, was the hardest freezing day known for some years; while December, 1877, was a month as fine as September generally is.

The population in 1887 was 2,697, exclusive of Lucan, which, in May of this year, contained 924 inhabitants. The total of the township, outside Lucan, is made up of 956 persons of the English Church, 819 of the Catholic, 705 of the Methodist, and 217 of the Presbyterian. The assessor does not include the Salvation Army membership, which is supposed to belong to Lucan.

Biddulph, like McGillivray, formed part of Huron county until 1865, when it was attached to Middlesex, provision being made for its exemption from the heavy taxes which then prevailed here for roads and bridges. Its settlement dates back to 1835, when the Hodginses, Courcoys and Atkinsons purchased their lands. One or two years prior to that the Norwich (Conn.) Quaker, Frederick Stover, purchased 800 acres, in conjunction with a number of free colored men or refugee slaves, and planted here, just west of the present town of Lucan, the Wilberforce colored colony, the history of which is given in the history of Lucan.

Among the old settlers of Biddulph, who were residing there in 1878-80, mention is made of the following-named:—John Atkinson and Hiram Hodgins, 1838-40; Captain J. W. Evans, 1825; John McIlhargy, 1822; William H. Ryan, 1835; William Rivington, 1837; John Hudson and John Simpson, 1839; P. J. Dewan, 1840; Thomas Collins and John Eedy, 1841; Albert Beatson, Robert Boyd, John Dagg, T. C. Hodgins and Thomas Mangle, 1842; Richard Jermyn, John Jermyn, James and William Grant, in 1843; Charles Foreman, John Flanagan and W. D. Stanley, in 1844; George Foreman and William Levitt, 1845; Thomas Blackwell, Isaac Hodgins, Dr. H. Lang, in 1846; Samuel Langford, in 1849, and Robert C. Thompson, of Adare hotel, in 1850.

Mrs. Bell, a colored centenarian, who settled on the London and Goderich road in 1832, died in November, 1878. She was the last of the colored colony located here by the Friends. Col. James Hodgins came with his family from Tipperary, Ireland, in 1832, to Lot 39, Con. 3, Biddulph, where he was the first settler. He was agent for the Canada Company a number of years. In 1837–8 he commanded the Sixth Battalion Huron Militia, in which his son John was a private soldier. He died January 1, 1867, aged 84 years. Wm. N. Hodgins, born in Ireland, settled with his father's family on Lot 39, Con. 3, Biddulph, in 1834. For five years prior to his death, April 3, 1884, he was master of Orange Lodge, No. 662, Lucan. Adam Hodgins, who in 1831 came from Ireland to Canada, and was one of the first settlers of Biddulph, died January 29, 1886. He was a member of the party engaged in the survey of the Huron Tract. W. H. Ryan came from Ireland with his father in 1835, and settled on Lot 32, Con. 3, Biddulph. He served with the Simcoe cavalry in 1837. Peter Johnson, a colored man, said to be aged 104 years, was found dead in the hamlet of Ireland, January 1, 1870. He saw General Washington in his time, and was present at the convention of colored people at London in April, 1853. At that time (1853) there were 276 colored people in London, holding real estate valued at $13,504.

John Atkinson, born in Tipperary county, Ireland, settled in Biddulph in 1840. He served in the 11th Battalion under Col. Radcliffe, at London and Adelaide village in 1837–8. He took the census and made the assessment in 1840 for Biddulph—the taxes being $75, and his pay eighteen shillings and four pence. His death took place July 28, 1884. John Dagg, son of one of the pioneers of Biddulph, born in Ireland, came with his father hither, and died in March, 1887. At the time, he was county master of Orange lodges, president of the Lucan and Biddulph Agricultural Societies, and of the North Middlesex Cheese Manufacturing Co. George Foreman settled in Biddulph in 1845, and also Charles Foreman, who is said to have come here in 1844. Charles McRoberts, who came from Ireland in 1830, with his parents, and settled in London township, died in January, 1886. In 1846 he settled where Lucan village now stands. John Heenan, who died in October, 1888, aged 95 years, was an old resident; while James Porte, referred to in other pages, was among the foremost of the pioneers. In the following sketch of the organization of this township, as well as in the history of McGillivray, many names of old residents find mention.

Granton Church, when organized some years ago, was attached to the Lucan parish, of which T. W. Magahy was rector in 1883–7; and, in April, 1887, Rev. John Downie took charge of Holy Trinity Church, Lucan, and St. James's, one and a-half miles west. CHAPTER XVII.

LUCAN TOWN.

Lucan is the modern name of the old village of Marysville. In point of settlement and progress it ranks with the new railroad towns of Middlesex. It is the principal town of the north-eastern section of the county, and the centre of a large trade as well as of a rich agricultural district. During its earlier years, it was looked upon as "the wildest town in Canada;" but descriptions were exaggerated of the evil, and forgotton in toto of the good, parts of the community; until truth came to the rescue and compelled an acknowledgment, that, after all, only a few wild visitors made the place notorious. To the residents and people of the surrounding country, the town was everything that a new railroad town should be. Its grain market was no less celebrated than its cattle trade; so, that while the press was reporting unfavorably on its social condition, society and trade were both flourishing, almost ignorant of the existence of the noisy desperadoes who came occasionally to it to show that a busy trade centre could not continue in its course without a street broil or a tragedy.

From the reminiscences of William Porte, published in the Enterprise some years ago, the following facts are taken. He states that Lots 5 and 6, north and south of the London and Goderich road in Biddulph, with 600 acres more, were taken up in the name of the Society of Friends, of Oberlin, O., the price being $1.50 per acre. In 1830, Lots 5, north and south, were occupied by Peter Butler, J. Wyatt, W. Whitehead, and one Pinkham, who were the original settlers on the land where Lucan Village is situate. Lots 6, north and south, were held by the Canada Co.; but in 1839, Morgan, or "The Rattler," erected a scooped shanty near the location of Mr. Dight's residence. There, in 1841, John Shoebottom, of London Township, was married to Jane A. Morgan, Mr. Porte being one of the witnesses. In 1842, Henry Hodgins came from Castleconnell, Ireland, and located on Lot 6, south. In the erection of his log house a heavy log fell upon James Dagg, killing him instantly. Mr. Hodgins deserted the site of this deplorable accident, and selected a location twenty rods nearer the main road. On the adjoining farm, Wm. Morgan's son was killed by a falling tree in 1843, where Arnold & Ward's flour mill now stands; and even prior to this, the colored colonist Duke, son-in-law of Whitehead, was killed while hunting a raccoon. Old Mrs. Wyatt, then seventy-five years old, residing on Lot 5, north, committed suicide. It appears she was religiously mad, and to appease her strange god, tied her limbs together and lay down in the creek to drown.

Of the first buildings, none now exist; and, with the exception of the Butlers, none of the colored pioneers are to be found. The colored school-house stood where J. C. Watts's residence now is, and the teacher sent by the Friends vanished with the house.

In 1843 the Friends ceased to support the colony and school; but the white settlers hired William Porte to carry on the school. In 1854, Wm. Morgan moved to Bruce County.

On the plans of the railway company becoming known, Sheriff McDonald and Donald McDonald, of Toronto, purchased Lots 6, north and south, and planned the village in 1854, and in February, 1855, sold many of the lots by auction. The first dwelling was that of Henry Hodgins, opposite C. W. Sanders's house, on the south side of Main street. A hewed log-house was next erected by William Morgan in 1844, where Dr. Hossack's residence now stands. It was a landmark there until September 16, 1864, when fire destroyed it

At the sale of lots in 1855, Robert Hodgins, sen., purchased lots 245 and 265; Wm. Mayo, 246, 247, 172; George Carter, 266, 259, 189 (Central Hotel); Wm. Walsh, 267; R. Young, 247, 260; James Atkinson, 268, 254, 164; Samuel Long, 249, 236, 287, 170; John Hodgins, 250, 166; Charles Baker, 269, 271; Rhody Armitage, 270; Henry Hodgins, sen., 274; John Atkinson, 239; H. Mitchell, 238; Thomas Atkinson, 237, 172; R. H. O'Neil, 255; Henry O'Neil, sen., 256; Nathaniel Ryan, 258; Simon Young, jun., 165; Daniel Neil, 163; Bernard Stanley, 162; Patrick Nangle, 160; Wm. Atkinson, 159; George Hodgins (Hill), 258, 231; Thomas Rawlins, 157 (Queen's Hotel); James (Jury) Hodgins, 149; Wm. Stanley, 191 (post office); Caleb Ryan, 190, 188, 229; Henry Hodgins, 187; Uriah Monaghan, 168; James Coughlin, 169; Joseph Berryhill, 173; A. Gardner, 230; Thomas Harlton, 224; Wm. Porte, 161 (E. Mara's store); Thomas Tierney, 203; Con. Tierney, 204, and John Cooney, 167, with two lots purchased by P. Flanagan and John Robinson, which sales were cancelled—the first where is now the Presbyterian, and the last the Methodist Church buildings. Of the original purchasers, Bernard Stanley and Daniel Neil held their lots; while, of the thirty-nine, seventeen were living and twenty-two were reported deceased in 1885.

The nucleus of the village was formed on the south-eastern side of the railroad. Roger Smith, of London, erected a small steam flouring-mill on lots 241 and 242, north of Main street, in 1855; Robert Young built his dwelling and store-house on lot 260 in 1856; John Robinson built his house on lots 261 and 262, where James Mayo resided, in 1885, and to this settlement the name of Marystown was given in honor of Mrs. Mary Macdonald, wife of the sheriff, who then owned the unsold lots on the town plot.

In 1856-7, the railway company surveyed a line via Elginfield, another via Ireland, and a third between Sauble Hill and Marystown. This caused so much uncertainty to exist, that not until 1859 did the location give promise of advancement. In that year Bernard Stanley erected the first pretentious dwelling on the north-west of the track; Tom Rawlings built a log-house on the site of the Queen's Hotel;

John Cooney also erected one on Lot 167, Alice street, called after the postmaster's eldest daughter, Mrs. Windsor, of Browne City, Mich., who was born in that house, which was the first post-office building. Of them all, the Stanley store-house was standing in 1885; William Stanley erected his building next. R. H. O'Neil erected his present house soon after, and Marystown became a prominent place in South Huron. The Central Hotel building was erected by R. McLean, the Queen's Hotel by J. Donohue (the Crunnican-McIlhargy Block), all brick buildings, were soon added, while a number of frame houses added to the filling up of all Main street from the railroad to Farrell's corner. Then Hugh Benn erected the Royal Hotel; Wm. Frank moved in his brick house from Elginfield to the corner of Frank and Main streets; Leonard Hodgins's Hotel stood where is now the Methodist building, and many homes were erected on Alice, Frank and William streets; so that when the village was incorporated, Jan. 1, 1872, its claims for local government were well justified. Later a number of enterprising men tried to secure the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad, and were willing to give the required bonus of $7,000 while Biddulph would grant $8,000; but the majority defeated the project.

On January 26, 1864, the first Penny Readings were given in the school-house. In 1863 the Queen's birthday was celebrated, a calithumpian procession of 190 horsemen being one of the features of the day. No less than 2,500 persons are said to have assembled in the village of that time.

Official History.—The petition of 100 inhabitants of Lucan was before the Council June 7, 1871, asking for incorporation. John C. Frank was appointed to take the census; B. Stanley and J. Thompson represented the petitioners. In September, a by-law to incorporate was drafted, an election ordered to be held at the school-house, and on the 20th the act passed. The first meeting of the Lucan Council was held at Currie's School-house January 15, 1872. The officers were: —Robert F. O'Neil, reeve; D. McRoberts, Wm. Porte, H. B. Quarry, and A. Goodacre, councillors; S. C. Hersey, clerk; J. C. Frank, treasurer; Thomas Atkinson, assessor; and Richard Thompson, inspector of licenses. The applications for tavern licenses were made by Robert McLean, H. McPhee, John Carroll, W. E. Wilkins, W. Walker, Geo. Hodgins, and Joseph Fitzhenry; and for shop licenses by H. B. Quarry, E. Mara, M. Cunningham, T. Hodgins, and J. Gleeson In April a by-law, proposed by D. McRoberts and W. Porte, providing for granting a bonus of $5,000 and depot grounds to the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad, was adopted, and in May the same councillors proposed that $200 be expended on sidewalks. At this time, H. B. Quarry's motion to purchase $25 worth of hose for fire purposes was carried. In November, Henry Macklin was appointed clerk. At this time a by-law was passed, providing for a bonus of $7,000 to the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad. On submitting this by-law to the people, it was adopted, but owing to Biddulph not voting the necessary $8,000, the vote of Lucan was of no use. The council for 1873 comprised Messrs. P. McIlhargy, R. McLean, W. Porte, and D. McRoberts. Samuel Flannery was licensed to keep the Dublin House. In 1874, Orlando Robins and A. Goodacre were members, and Thomas Dight, reeve. In June, the Council made an effort to organize a fire company. The new member of the Council for 1875 was W. H. Hutchins, Messrs. McLean, Porte and McRoberts being re-elected. In April, measures were taken to erect water tanks, so as to have a water supply for fire engines, should necessity call the brigade into service.

In January, 1876, C. F. Pashley was elected clerk, vice Macklin resigned. In March, 1876, a by-law, exempting the projector of the flax-mill from taxation for five years, was passed, the vote on the bonus $500 and exemption being thirty-five for and one contra. At this time, also, the building of a lock-up was decided upon. Of the Council for 1877, Thomas Hossack, W. E. Stanley, W. Porte and D. McRobert were members, with W. H. Hutchins, reeve. In July, a by-law, providing for the loan of $1,000, to be expended on building a Town Hall and engine room, was ordered to be submitted to the ratepayers. In January, 1878, W. S. Hodgins was appointed clerk. The members of the Council were:—J. D. McCosh, C. M. McRoberts, S. Gibson, and W. E. Stanley; while for 1879, R. H. O'Neil and P. McIlhargy were chosen to fill vacancies.

In 1879-80, Wm. Stanley was reeve, with Messrs. R. H. O'Neil, C. McRoberts, P. McIlhargy, W. B. Abbott, John Bawden, and S. Gibson, councillors. In June, 1880, the question of building a branch railroad from Lucan, to connect with the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad, was considered by the council, and in September a by-law was drafted providing for a bonus of $10,000 to any company who would build such branch. John H. McConnell was elected clerk, vice W. S. Hodgins, resigned. The council for 1881 comprised John Maguire, James H. McRoberts, Messrs. Bawden and McIlhargy, with William Stanley, reeve. George Hodgins was subsequently elected, vice Bawden, resigned. (J. W. Orme was appointed clerk pro tem. in June.) Wm. Ellwood was elected, vice McIlhargy, for 1882. J. H. McRoberts was chosen reeve for 1883; while Thomas Hall, Wm. E. Hooper, Geo. Hodgins, and J. R. Armitage, were chosen councillors. In July, 1883, A. O. Graydon was appointed village engineer; Wm. McLeod, collector; and in December the following-named were chosen councillors for 1884:—Wm. Hogg, Thomas E. Hall, David McRoberts, and William Haskett.

In 1885, Albert Goodacre, Wm. Hogg, W. N. Shaver and John Murdy were councillors, with Wm. Ellwood, reeve; while in 1886, E. Tennent succeeded councillor Hogg. In March, 1886, the use of the market square was granted to the Lucan Agricultural Society under certain conditions. In August, Geo. A. Stanley was chosen clerk, vice McConnell, and in December, F. A. O'Neil, J. R. Armitage, W. N.

Shaver and John Murdy were nominated for the council, and were elected and re-elected for 1888, William Ellwood still serving as reeve, and Geo. A. Stanley clerk. The rate of taxation adopted in August, 1888, is as follows:—Local, 8 mills; school, 8½ mills, and county and debenture, 2½. The expenditures for 1872 amounted to $2,360.28; for 1873, $2,256.31; for 1874, $6,502.59, including $4,405 for schools; for 1875, $3,337.23; for 1876, $3,184.95; for 1877, $6,124.84, including $1,773 33 for school purposes, and $1.305.34 for payment of debentures and interest; for 1878, $5,082.72, of which $1,363.20 represented school grant and county rate, and $1,300 bonus, of $100, to flax mill, and debentures, $1,200; for 1879, $4,277.98, including $1,724.96 school grant and county rate, $100 bonus to flax mill, and $800 debenture; for 1880, $3,840.34, including $1,417.29 school grant and county rate; for 1881, $4,460.84, including $1,276 school and county rate; for 1882, $4,628.85; for 1883, $4,072.20; for 1884, $4,804.63; for 1885, $4,574.08; for 1886, $4,612.13, including $1,200 school grant; for 1887, $6,289.51, including school appropriation $1,250.

Schools.—Prior to the establishment of the school at Lucan in 1868, the district was known as No. 6, and, in 1864, Wm. Haskett was chosen trustee.

School section No. 11, was set off on December 30, 1868, and the first meeting held at the Dublin House, January 13, 1869. Joshua Thompson presided, with W. E. Roache, secretary. R. H. O'Neil, Wm. Frank and Thomas Dight were elected trustees. In 1870, A. Goodacre was chosen, vice Frank, resigned, and Wm. Foreman, secretary. Benj. O'Neil was engaged as teacher, with Miss Pritchard and Mr. Foreman. In 1871, C. F. Pashley was chosen trustee and S. T. Scilly secretary. In 1872, six trustees were chosen:—Bernard Stanley, Robert McLean, Dr. Thomas Hossack, Charles F. Pashley, James Gleeson and Wm. Galloway. Mr. Scilly and Miss Stacey were teachers in 1871. In January, John Dearness, Mrs. Warburton and Miss Edwards were employed. In 1873, Mr. Crunnican was chosen trustee, and Mr. Gleeson elected secretary, to succeed Mr. Pashley, who, as trustee, was succeeded by T. R. Jennings. David McRoberts's name also appears at this time, and that of H. Macklin. In 1874, Dr. Burgess and T. R. Jennings were chosen members of the board, and W. S. Hodgins employed as teacher, with Charles Manley, Mrs. Warburton and Martha J. Edwards.

In April, 1874, steps were taken to build an addition to the schoolhouse, and in October the building was completed. D. Hammell was employed as head master in November, with Misses Martin and Edwards, assistants. In 1875, M. Crunnican and Henry Collins were chosen trustees, and John A. Burgess, secretary. Mr. McTaggert taught here in 1875. In July, C. F. Pashley succeeded Dr. Burgess as trustee and secretary, and in November, W. B. McKay was engaged as principal; and in December, Miss Chisholm took Miss Martin's place. Bernard Stanley and R. H. O'Neil were chosen trustees for 1876. In December, Principal Hodgins, with Misses Chisholm and Beamish, were re-engaged as teachers, the salaries being $600, $315 and $250, respectively. In 1878, Messrs. Ellwood, Abbott, Fox, McConnell, and Bawden, were chosen trustees; and in 1879, A. Goodacre, Wm. E. Hooper, and John Murdy. L. Cann was appointed secretary. Among the teachers in 1878-9, the names of Miss Zapfe, Miss Howard, and Miss Hodgins occur. The Board employed W. S. Hodgins, and Misses Sproat and Howard for 1880; and Bernard Stanley, with D. McRoberts, were elected trustees. Wm. Ellwood was secretary. In March, 1880, Miss Courcey was employed. The teachers for 1881 were John McLaughlin, Misses Sproat and Courcey; but Miss Salmon taught here for some time. Gerald Fitzgerald and Wm. Ellwood were chosen trustees. W. E. and John Murdy were re-elected for 1882, and Wm. Hendson appointed principal. D. McRoberts and B. Stanley were re-elected for 1883; G. T. Fitzgerald and Thomas Hodgins for 1884; J. Murdy and W. Matheson for 1885. In 1886, B. Stanley, Thomas Hodgins, L. Cann, John Fox, Wm. Matheson, the secretary, and John Murdy, formed the Board; while in 1887, the name of Wm. McLeod appears on the roll of trustees, with Bernard Stanley, chairman, and R. S. Hodgins, secretary.

In January, 1880, the school trustees of Lucan agreed to set apart one room as a separate school, and to employ a Catholic teacher to preside there.

Fires.—The first fire at Lucan, November 15, 1862, destroyed Conroy's Mechanics' Hall and a smaller building. Morgan's pioneer log-house, on the site of Dr. Hossack's house, was destroyed September 19, 1864. Madill's hotel was burned February 8. Thomas Fox's workshop, in rear of R. Fox's present residence, was burned February 15; Thomas Robinson's carpenter shop, March 5; Elijah Turner's barn, August 22, 1865; in 1871, J. H. Blackwell's house, July 9; Chas. McRoberts's Old Dominion Hotel was destroyed August 1, 1879; attempt to burn Creighton's livery stable, opposite Queen's Hotel, April 17, 1880; W. H. Hutchins' grain-store, opposite the Madoc House, and 9,000 bushels of barley, were destroyed September 3, 1881; and on October 9 an attempt to fire Stanley & Dight's flouring mill was made, but the fire was discovered. A detective named West, and Simon Young, were charged with the act.

On April 4, 1883, fire destroyed Johnston's livery stable, with six horses, and the shops of Niblock & Marrin. The Stanley & Dight cooper-shop was destroyed December 18, 1885. In March, 1886, McLean's foundry was destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of $4,000.

Accidents.—On July 26, 1864, a boy named Martin O'Mally was killed by a train near Lucan. In 1865, P. Ryder was killed in a similar way; and in 1872, Adam Hodgins's body was found on the track. A brakesman named John Shea was killed at Lucan, Dec. 30, 1869. The first fatal accident on the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad occurred April 13, 1877, when a brakesman was killed at Brucefield. In December, 1877, old Mr. Grant, of Granton, was drowned in the cistern. The accident on the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad, of December 25, 1880, resulted in the death of James McGrath, his wife, his brother, mother and Ellen Blake. Thomas Taylor, of the 14th concession of London, fell from his wagon in rear of Glass's hotel, October 7, 1881, and was killed. In March, 1883, R. Cruise, of Blanshard, and Clark, of St. Mary's, were killed by trains at Stanley's crossing.

Commercial Affairs.—The first important building was erected in April, 1859, by Bernard Stanley, and in the fall of that year the depot was completed. James Parkyn opened his grain-warehouse next year, and in 1861 shipped 89,000 bushels of grain; later, he built warehouses at Ailsa Craig, Westwood, Parkhill and Forest. The grain business of Lucan Station in 1862 amounted to 155,855 bushels of grain shipped, while in 1863 the figures were 167,300 bushels, James Parkyn shipping 68,250, Thomas Dight 40,950, R. H. O'Neil 26,950, J. Atkinson 21,350, and B. Stanley 9,800 bushels. In 1862 there were four grain warehouses, to which four were added in 1863–4 by H. M. Atkinson, Hodgins & Co., James Laird and Wm. Frank. In 1862 there were 2,930,000 feet of lumber, shingles and lath imported. The forward freight in 1887 amounted to 5,386 tons, yielding $16,778, and the freight received 1,406 tons, yielding $4,478 60. The number of passengers forwarded, and value of tickets issued each month in 1887, are as follows:—January, 470 passengers, and value of tickets, $423.60; February, 401 and $342.25; March, 509 and $507; April, 458 and $521; May, 494 and $398; June, 567 and $407; July, 546 and $412; August, 1,253 and $694; September, 741 and $609; October, 478 and $442; November, 506 and $505.90; December, 484 and $390.

J. R. Meagher, of Columbus, Neb., was the first railroad agent at Lucan in 1859. Timothy Carey, who for over twenty years was baggage-master at Lucan, was transferred to Port Huron in 1884. Mr. Sinclair is the present agent.

The principal business men of Lucan in 1878–80, and the date of settlement, are noted as follows:—J. R. Armitage, 1849, W. H. Hutchins, 1863, J. D. McCosh, 1861, merchants; L. Cann, 1861, books and stationery; John F. Cain, 1869, Royal Hotel; R. McLean, 1844, Central Hotel; R. McFalls, 1854, Queen's Hotel; Wm. Walker, 1863, hotel and stage line; J. W. Orme, 1855, grocer; J. C. Watts, 1860, tinsmith; Wm. Matheson, 1870, watchmaker; Shoebottom Bro., 1843, patent spring manufacturers; James K. Tom, 1875, job printer; J. E. Thomas, 1876, manager Bank of Commerce; T. T. Atkinson, 1873, carpenter; John Farrell, 1829, druggist; S. Gibson, 1867, planing mills; Hogg & Piefer, 1876, flax mills; W. Haskett, 1859, mill owner; S. C. Hersey, 1862, grain merchant; Reed & Chisholm, butchers and drovers; and Wm. McBride, 1873, carpenter. Law was represented by W. Macdiarmid, 1872; and the church by Rev. H. B. Lotz, 1876, Catholic priest.

Post-office.—The first postmaster at Lucan in 1857–8 was C. H. Ashberry, but was succeeded May 25, 1859, by William Porte, who has held the office down to the present day. In January, 1871, an extra mail to London by Grand Trunk Railroad was established. In May, 1873, the McPhee stages ceased to run, the Donnelly stages were inaugurated, and on May 24 the era of stage troubles was inaugurated. The Hawkshaw opposition stage was sold in October to Crawley and Flanagan. The old Lucan and Goderich stage ceased June 29, 1878, after a run of about forty years, and the first mails via the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad were despatched from Lucan, June 30. The Montreal telegraph line was completed to Lucan in November, 1868.

Banks.—The banking house of R. H. O'Neil was established on September 27, 1876, and the business carried on in a frame building on the site of the present bank office, which was erected in August, 1883. With the exception of two years (1882–3), F. A. O'Neil has been cashier.

The Bank of Commerce was established at Lucan, but, in September, 1883, the office was removed to Parkhill, and its place here was at once occupied by R. & J. Fox, who opened a private bank in the same building in the same month.

Societies.—Irving Lodge, 154, A. F. & A. M., was chartered in 1861. Among the members are the following Past Masters, the last named being the present Master:—Wm. Diamond, Wm. Porte, John O'Donohue, Edwin Patching, James Sutton, M. D., F. R. Jennings, Wm. Ellwood, Wm. S. Hodgins, Wm. Quigley, jr., John Murdy, John Fox, Thos. Kitt, Wm. McLoud. There are sixty-one members.

Lucan Lodge, No. 209, A. O. U. W., was founded in June, 1883, with Dr. Hossack, master, and G. A. Ellis, secretary.

Lucan Lodge, No. 70, I. O. O. F., was chartered March 30, 1871, with Robert McLean, D. McCosh, W. Bowie, Edward Mara, first

Noble Grand, and C. F. Pashley, secretary, members. During the last nine years, W. E. Stanley has served as permanent secretary. The Past Grands are named as follows:—Edward Mara, Chas. F. Pashley, Donald J. McCosh, Thomas Hossack, Wm. E. Stanley, James C. Watts, Robert McLean, Albert Goodacre, Sylvanus Gibson, James P. Atkinson, Wm. M. Shoebottom, Lewis Cann, Wm. Macdiarmid, Geo. M. Shoebottom, Jacob C. Palmer, Henry Collins, Geo. H. Barron, Wm. E. Collins, and William Bryant. The lodge has an average number of fifty members. In 1883-4, William Macdiarmid, of Lucan, served as Grand Master.

The Lucan Agricultural Society was reorganized, or revived, in April, 1884, with John Dagg, president; Robert S. Hodgins, secretary. The membership was 100, and increased to 200 in 1887–8. To John Dagg, now deceased, Thomas H. Courcey, W. E. Stanley and Robert S. Hodgins, the credit of renewing this useful society is accorded. The second annual fair was held in September, 1885. There were 1,100 entries; in 1886, there were 1,500. The fair of 1887 was attended by 2,500 persons; there were 1,500 entries, and gate receipts amounted to $160. In 1888, the annual fair was successful. The officers of the Lucan Agricultural Society for 1888 were:—T. H. Courcey, president; W. E. Hooper, vice-president; W. E. Stanley, secretary-treasurer; Thomas Dickens, J. Cobbledick, F. Davis, John Lewis, James Miller, Chas. Rosser, John Neil, J. Abbott, M. Glass, W. Hodgins, J. Murdy, John Hodgins, C. C. Hodgins, N. Stewart, A. McFalls, James Carter, John Guest, W. Walker and F. Walden, directors.

The Biddulph Agricultural Society, organized some years ago, may be said to be one of the oldest organizations of this class in the northern townships. William Porte was secretary of the old Biddulph Agricultural Society for eleven years. The officers for 1888 were:—James Foster, president; S. Gunning, vice-president; W. B. Stewart, secretary; J. E. Murray, treasurer; L. Piad, J. Walls, J. Brooks, W. E. Langford, S. Clarke, W. Spence, D. Johnston, M. Langford, T. Bunn, J. Jermyn and T. Lawton, directors.

The Lucan Mechanics' Institute dates back to the early days of the village, when Wm. Porte was appointed to obtain a library, and for years was connected with the society. The officers of the Mechanics' Institute for 1888 were:—W. Stanley, president; Matheson & L. Cann, vice-presidents; W. Ellwood, treasurer; John Fox, secretary, and Messrs. Edwards, Fox, J. Frank and R. Armitage, directors.

In 1875, the Father Matthew Temperance organizations of Biddulph held a great meeting at Lucan.

The Lucan Base Ball Club was organized in June, 1885, with John Jackson, J. Hutchins, Ted Collins, George Fife, A. O'Neil, J. Jackson, A. E. Stanley, T. Hutchins, R. Collins, W. Armitage, John Kenny, E. Jennings, Fred Oldhan and A. Murdoch, members.

The Stanley-Dight and the Hooper mills (operated by George Adcott) are important industries; but the most extensive concern in the county is managed by Robert S. Hodgins, who ships annually about 290,000 bushels of barley, wheat, oats and other grains, together with 17,000 barrels of apples, and during the season a carload of cider daily. He established the custom of feeding hogs at the cheese factory, and also that of shipping baled hay.

On March 10, 1866, fifty-two men left Lucan for Point Edward under Captain H. B. Hodgins, Lieut. J. C. Frank and Ensign W. H. Atkinson, and served three months and ten days on the boundary, in view of the threatened Fenian invasion. Wm. Porte, in his journal, states that the battle of Ridgeway and rout of the Queen's Own, occurred May 2, 1866.

Nineteen years later Captain Thom, then commanding, called this company on parade, when only five men responded. In June, 1885, however, twelve or fifteen men assembled, seeking a place in the annual meeting of 26th Battalion at London.

The Lucan drill shed and armory were erected on lot 154 in 1871. This building is a wooden one.

The Lucan flag-pole, erected May 9, 1863, was cut down by unknown parties November 1, 1873. This pole was bought from Barber, of the village of Ireland, and taken to Lucan, where it stood for ten years and seven months.

On April 14, 1865, a flag was placed at half-mast in respect to Abraham Lincoln. Dr. White, a southerner, then here, fired at the flag, as the honor to the dead president was too much for this confederate.

In March, 1871, a political meeting was being held at Carroll's Hall, Lucan, when the floor gave way, injuring D. Quigley, and breaking the leg of Mr. Galloway's son.

Red-letter day in the political life of Lucan was Dec. 16, 1886. Sir John Macdonald visited Lucan, accompanied by leading members of his party. Among other acts in the drama of this political reception was the printing of the Enterprise in red; and the Young Conservative Club was organized.

In December, 1872, Ireland village gave thirty-two votes for, and twelve against; McIlhargy's, sixty-five for, and eighty-one against; and Grant's, eighty-seven against, on the question of giving a bonus to the London, Huron & Bruce Railroad. Lucan voted almost unanimously for the bonus.

London Cemeteries and Notable Tombstones

Compiled by Marietta Smith and Mary Green*

St. Peter's Roman Catholic Cemetery

The first burial made in St. Peter's R.C. Cemetery (806 Victoria St.) was that of John Kennedy on July 16, 1857. Here is located the grave of the Honourable HENRY EDWARD DORMER, soldier, samaritan and scholar, 1844-1866. He administered to victims of cholera, succumbing to the disease himself, and he is honoured by a plaque in St. Peter's Basilica and by an order in the Knights of Columbus known as Dormer.

SIR PHILIP POCOCK K.S.G. (Knight of Saint Gregory) was born in 1855. As chief lieutenant to Sir Adam Beck, he owned the London Shoe Company, was a Director of Huron and Erie, Governor of University of Western Ontario, and he also served 15 years on the Public Utilities Commission.

Close by is one of the most beautiful tombstones in London's cemeteries, that of THOMAS COFFEY, 1843-1914. A printer, he founded the Catholic Record, principal publication of the Catholic Church until 1948. He was appointed Senator by Sir Wilfred Laurier.

Coffey Monument, St. Peter's R.C. Cemetery.

To the right and farther on, is the grave of FRANCIS LOMBARDO, uncle of Guy Lombardo. Guy is buried in Long Island and his parents in New York.

Passing the circular area where clergy are buried and walking to the left, one passes the original community plot of the SISTERS OF ST. JOSEPH, to the grave of DENNIS O'BRIEN, from Fermoy, Ireland, where he was born in 1792. He built London's first store in 1827 and later the first brick house on Dundas St. During the Rebellion of 1837, the military rented and used his house. From his beginning as a pedlar, progressing to merchant, using as counter a plank stretched between two barrels, he was elected to village council in 1840, and later to the Police Board; he was a successful business man.

Across the path is the grave of JACK CHAMBERS, famous Canadian artist and close by that of AUSTIN CHISOLM, last of the Boer War R.C.R. veterans. Walking back, one passes the special area for babies and small children.

WELDON LIBRARY (Regional Collection)

The writer saw on Dec. 13, 1984, three large volumnes of Parish Registers of Lot Owners. There were dates of burials, cost of work, and by wards. This was all for Section AA, the oldest section.

A plot plan for Sections A, B, C. D, N, and Calvary Circle.

An alphabetical listing in a black book on Ligore section of St. Augustine Ward.

A slim book for sale of plots, June '43 to Oct.'60.

Perpetual care records.

Perhaps the library will get them microfilmed in time. It is only mentioned here as an added source of research, inasmuch as a very great many of the graves only have a footstone, sometimes with one surname, sometimes with 2 names. M.Aitken.

INTRODUCTION

The information in this book was originally extracted by staff members of the National Archives of Canada from the British Colonial Office papers [C.O. 384]. Their list retained the British numbering so research could be done in both countries. The index is intended as an aid to research only and is copyright.

The Colonial Office papers contain a vast amount of material unrelated to ships' passenger lists and considerable work was involved by the staff of the National Archives in extracting the names of those emigrants found in Volumes 1, 3, 12, 13, 23, 27, 28 and 83. A copy of this nominal index was purchased by myself from the National Archives, with permission for reproduction, but inspection revealed several errors in the alphabetical sequencing of the surnames and the list did not include any of the microfilm numbers. These numbers are required if one is to trace the entries back to the original documents now on film.

While the microfilm numbers were available to the researcher on a single sheet of paper, these required study to be able to relate them to the various years and to a particular person. Further, each line was preceded by a reference to the British Colonial Office number 384 and this constant repetition was not necessary if instruction was provided at the beginning advising that the researcher needed to insert 'C.O. 384' in front of any reference when ordering a copy of the data from the National Archives. In this revision, the relevant microfilm number has been added beside each name which should make any search easier.

After the given names of some individuals you will see '(x2)'. This indicates that there were two people with the same name and identical details in that family and the (x2) replaces a second line to save space in the book.

The last column contains the microfilm number beginning with the letter B. These films are available from the National Archives of Canada in Ottawa on inter-library loan should you wish to view these yourself. Write to:
